

CHAMBER FAVORS CIVIC CONVENTION

Maui Advised of Stand Taken and Definite Plans Will Soon Be Under Way

The Honolulu chamber of commerce is in thorough accord with plans for holding a Civic Convention on Maui about the middle of September, and by a unanimous vote yesterday adopted a resolution approving of the convention and urging that it be held, despite any objections that might be raised against it because of war conditions.

The action of the Honolulu organization was wireless to Maui yesterday and upon receipt of information from the Maui chamber of commerce that a definite program is being arranged and that active steps are being taken to stage the session, a post card vote will be taken by the local chamber to secure a list of members who will attend.

The question was raised as to whether or not, this being a war year, with the draft taking away large numbers of employees and throwing additional burdens upon employees remaining with firms, a Civic Convention should be held. Apparently, Maui has been in doubt as to whether or not the outside friends are planning to attend the convention in large numbers, and its chamber of commerce inquired from each of the commercial organizations as to what their attitude is on the convention plan.

Secretary R. C. Brown, of the local chamber, said that he had heard unofficially that no program had yet been decided upon, or as to the length of the convention session, and that Maui was endeavoring to ascertain whether or not enough interest was being manifested in the convention, to hold it at all. Maui, however, was understood to be ready to go to the bat strongly for the convention, but had presented some of the objections, as well as the favorable features, in order to get the opinion of the other organizations.

Chairman F. C. Atherton felt that an expression of opinion was immediately necessary. Alexander Hume Ford said the Ad Club at noon had endorsed the plan. As far as he was personally concerned he called attention to the fact that the Pan-Pacific Club was holding its annual Balboa Day about the time it was proposed to hold the convention and hoped another time would be decided on for the convention.

As to the convention, he was of the opinion that these being war times, a short, businesslike session should be held, with frills cut out. Even a smaller attendance, if composed of earnest men, was better than a large convention, which might not concentrate its attention upon the important things to be considered.

Want Some Fun
Other members, however, did not agree that all frills should be eliminated, for a cold blooded convention confined to business only would be short of features to which they were accustomed. There must be a small amount, at least, of fun and "pep."

C. B. Gage, who attended the Ad Club session at noon, said the Ad Club was greatly in favor of the convention, and gave a report of the principal reasons presented at the club session as to why the convention should be held and the attendance as large as in other years. Mr. Gage's summary of the reasons presented for the convention:

"Annual getting together of all men who are interested in the welfare of Hawaii net;
"For the purpose of discussing and planning the advancement of the best interests of our community;
"Held first proposed the holding of such conventions and held the first one five years ago;
"Held on each island in turn about the middle of September;
"Maui's turn this year;
"Maui has not yet expressed her self as to the plans for this year;
"Ad Club has always taken a very active part in these conventions;
"Committee thinks it desirable that the Ad Club take a definite stand as to the holding of a convention this year;
"Committee recommends that the Ad Club voice its approval of the following fundamental ideas:
"That previous conventions have contributed materially to the promotion of the best public interests of all Hawaii;
"That war conditions demand the closest possible mutual understanding and cooperation in all public affairs;
"That we believe it to be the desire of the Federal Government and President Wilson personally that business and public affairs conventions be promoted and conducted with more vigor and enthusiasm during the period of the war unless they result in congestion of railroad travel or steamer facilities, on or to or from the mainland;
"That we are ready to do serious hard work at all times for such interests as the convention stands for;
"That expenditures be kept down to absolute essentials;
"That the Ad Club prefers to pay its own way at all times even if it is broke or badly bent;
"That an efficient Civic Convention must have lots of life, pep and some Regular Fun to make it a success;
"That patriotism should have an important place in the convention;
"And that we extend our best wishes and Aloha to Maui wishing her every success."

No Time For Crape
J. I. Cockburn suggested that planning a program one day should be set aside for the discussion of patriotic matters, and handling war features.
George Angus was thoroughly in favor of a live, active convention, at times or no war times, and undoubtedly a convention held in war times was the best time for a get-together session of men from all the islands.

STATE HANDLING BUSINESS CHANCES

At Present Does Not Sell Established Business But Locates Applicants

DENVER, Colo., July 7.—(Associated Press).—Colorado has established a systematic "business chance" agency, maintained by the state and conducted largely along the same lines as private agencies of this kind, except that the service rendered is entirely free. It is maintained by the state immigration department, and includes a bureau for locating professional men in communities where there is need for them.

This service was undertaken on a limited scale about a year ago and its benefits, especially to the smaller communities in the state, at once became apparent. As a result of the first survey made by the immigration department approximately thirty new business establishments were located in as many towns in the state, and a large number of professional men made new and profitable connections in communities where their services were in much greater demand than where they formerly had been located. The new business places established included banks, hardware stores, hotels, garage and several others, while physicians and veterinarians took the lead among professional people located.

As a result of the losses in business and professional men sustained by the smaller communities of the state through the calling of registered men into military service the immigration department has found it necessary to make an entirely new survey of all the cities and towns in the state. This survey covers approximately 350 cities and towns, and schedules more than 1,000 business and professional opportunities, in about 50 different lines. The department is calling upon the larger places in the state to help in supplying the needs of the smaller communities for business and professional men, and in a few cases has asked aid from larger cities in other states.

The service does not at present include the sale of established businesses, but the immigration department is contemplating extending it to include the sale of business of men who are called to war and who have difficulty in disposing of their interests. It is proposed to handle this branch of the agency entirely without cost, either to the buyer or seller.

GOVERNOR LEAVES TO START LAND SURVEY

Governor McCarthy will leave for Kauai today to begin the survey of territorial lands which has been planned for several weeks. He will be accompanied by Land Commissioner H. G. Rivenburgh and Charles T. Bailey of the water service. The Governor will spend a week or ten days on Kauai and after going over all government land there will later proceed with the survey on other islands.

At Waimea the Governor and his party will be met by W. V. Hardy, assistant engineer of the U. S. geological survey on Kauai, who will accompany the party. A complete investigation is to be made of conditions above Waimea and Makawili and through to the homesteads above Kapaa. While on the Waimea side of the island it is probable that a trip will be made to the Kokee stream and an inspection made of a large mountain tract set aside some time ago for summer camp purposes.

CZECHO-SLOVAKS EAGER TO FIGHT

There are six Czecho-Slovaks in Honolulu, bound for Washington to try to interest President Wilson in a proposal which they carry to transport 80,000 of their countrymen from Vladivostok to the Western front, in Europe, to fight against the Germans. The home of these people is in a section of Austria so located that they were entrapped between Austria and Germany when the war broke out. They were intensely hostile to the Germans and disliked the Austrians, so were between destruction and ruin. At the beginning of the war, 260,000 of them surrendered to Russia, without firing a shot, and a part of this army has since followed the Siberian railway and has charge of much of the territory north and west of Vladivostok.

Captain Hurland leads the expedition and Lieut. F. Danischewski is his aide. The captain said last night that in addition to the 80,000 now ready in Siberia he hoped to be allowed to recruit Slovaks in the United States above the American draft age.

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR FAMILY

When you fail to provide your family with a healthy chamberlain's Colic, Diarrhoea Remedy at this season of the year, you are neglecting them, as bowel complaint is sure to be prevalent, and it is too dangerous a malady to be trifled with. This is especially true of those children in the family. A dose or two of this remedy will place the trouble within control and perhaps save a life, or at least a boy or girl. FOREST RESERVES GREATLY ENLARGED

Varied Activities of Board in Past Year Reviewed in Annual Report

While forest reserves in the Territory have been considerably extended in the past year little or no damage from forest fires was suffered through an unusually dry season, according to the annual report of the board of commissioners of agriculture and forestry, which was presented to the Governor yesterday by C. S. Judd, executive officer of the board. The report, which fills ten typewritten pages, will be made a part of the Governor's annual report.

The activities of the agriculture and forestry board fall under five divisions in the past year—forestry, plant inspection, entomology, animal industry and marketing. Special action taken at the recent session of the board, which was transferred to a new committee, the market board.

As a part of the board's work the report says the division of forestry has continued actively to protect and extend forests with the purpose of conserving an adequate and steady supply of water for use where industrial largely depend on water for irrigation.

Three Reserves Opened

Three new reserves have been created in the past year and a fourth has been enlarged. The new reserves are, that of Papahāhāhā, Spring on the Island of Kauai, fifty-four acres; the Waialeale on Oahu, 1169 acres, and the Keolu on Hawaii, 272 acres. To the Makawao reserve on Maui 263 acres were added. In all, now there are forty-two forest reserves in the territory having a total area of 774,521 acres of which 521,557 acres or sixty-nine percent are under forest.

With the formal setting apart of four new reserves under plans that are now about complete the report says the general forest reserve system of the Territory will be completed. Only three forest fires occurred in the year. One of these at Pihoua on Hawaii occurred in August, the report says and damaged the native forest there over an area of fifty acres before it was put under control. The other two, a small grass fire at Maui, Oahu, and a small brush fire at Waikapu, on Maui, did little damage.

The recent transfer of the Island of Kahoalawe which has an area of 27,360 to the land department is mentioned in the report.

Koa Tree Used

The report says the native koa tree has been used with great success in reforestation. This work on the open government land in the Honolulu watershed forest reserve in Maunaloa valley has been completed. Reforestation of the open land on the same watershed in the Makiki valleys has likewise been finished. In the past year four government nurseries raised and distributed for planting throughout the Territory a total of 353,527 tree seedlings. On Arbores 12,111 trees were distributed for planting.

The report tells that under authority given by the legislature a campaign for the protection of bird, animal and vegetable life on small islands off the windward coast of Oahu has been started.

The work of the plant inspection division of the board is reviewed at length by the report. Of the 713 vessels that arrived at Honolulu, Hilo and Kahului, the only ports where shipments of fruits and vegetables may enter directly, 294 carried 299,075 packages of vegetable matter which were examined and 3580 packages of plants and seeds. Inspections of all shipments of horticultural products leaving Honolulu for ports on other islands have been continued.

Entomology Division

Due to disturbed conditions caused by war, the report says no new work in the way of exploring for and introducing beneficial insects has been undertaken since the organization of the entomology division on July 1, 1917.

Beneficial insects, previously introduced, however, have been prolonged and distributed without interruption and the reason for the continued distribution of granaries is the necessity of re-establishing or renewing them in particular localities where through depletion or disappearance of pests the granaries become diminished or disappear.

Housewives may take heart from a conference report which says that a wasp brood from the Philippines last year to prey upon cockroaches has established itself here and has begun operations.

That part of the report devoted to the division of animal industry says that the Territory has now become self-supporting as far as beef and pork are concerned and will soon become so in regard to mutton. Livestock production, the report says, have practically been confined to the pastured movement of herds here. The report says steady progress has been made in the development of different classes of live stock and the suppression of contagious diseases.

Cope With Diseases

Glanders, the report says, has been entirely eradicated; apertosis, leishmaniasis, which appeared on the Island of Hawaii, is under complete control; tuberculosis has been reduced from 31.25 percent to two percent and the complete cure of the disease is in sight. Anthrax is now under complete control. The report says that the evidence on Kauai last year, that on Oahu and seven distinct outbreaks of the disease on Maui, probably were due to malarious places.

In the marketing division now under control of a board of its own, 2239 consignments of Island products were received and sold for $173,391.76 in the year, an increase of $50,875.86 over last year's sales. The report refers to the banana selling campaign of recent months, again saying that due to the ship shortage planters were

PLANTERS' PROBLEM TAKEN TO CAPITAL

Committee Will Urge Higher Price For Next Crop and Other Relief Measures

Matters of importance to the Hawaiian sugar industry will be taken up in Washington by a committee sent by the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, composed of J. W. Waldron, T. H. Petrie and R. D. Mond, which is now en route to the national capital. Mr. Waldron heads the committee as chairman. It is said that the matter of labor for the islands is merely one of several matters that may be taken up by the committee or its members, and that if it is taken up Mr. Mond will not go beyond the matter of securing Porto Rican labor, the subject he had up when in the East last winter, when he went to Porto Rico to investigate.

Cost Questions

One of the subjects which will receive attention is the price for next year's sugar and, in all the islands, there is probably no one better fitted to present the need of it for a higher price than Mr. Waldron, who has gone into the industry deeply and works ago he presented data to the food administrator and the chairman of the national and international sugar commission showing that the price fixed for this year was inadequate for Hawaii. Data to show that the present price is inadequate for the four cent sugar in the United States has been prepared and is being completed ready for presentation. While no formal announcement of the program of the committee has been made, the impression prevails that the committee has all other business of importance, which it will ask consideration without doubt the matter of securing labor will be one of those for Mr. Waldron has at the time of his visit to the subject of production where the lands are fertilized and where they are not. Irrigation cost and comparison of production on irrigated and unirrigated lands is another subject with which he is perfectly familiar.

At the labor bureau of the association yesterday it was noted that the question would receive more than incidental attention at the meeting, since source than Porto Rico would be considered.

On the subject of the committee's trip E. D. Tenney, president of the Planters' Association is quoted as saying:

"You are aware that the beet sugar men and the Louisiana planters are presenting figures on the cost of production to the food administrator and this mission from Hawaii is going to present data on the cost of the 1918 crop, or as nearly as this can be arrived at, to the food administrator for their consideration when arriving at a decision on the future price to be fixed for sugar."

In May and early June the beet sugar men presented figures on cost to the food administrator and Oscar S. Strauss was appointed to investigate. The beet sugar men were to have met the latter part of June but were advised not to, they indefinitely postponed meeting and the "Sugar Corporation" plan was announced this week which is to pay a higher price for beet sugar and other high cost sugar."

The Chicago Cubs and the Pat Moran Phillies played yesterday in Chicago the longest extra-inning game of either league this year when they battled for twenty-one innings before the winning run was put across the pan by the Cubs. Chicago won the great battle by a 2-1 score. The series closed yesterday, Chicago and Philadelphia breaking even as each won two and lost two games.

The Cubs are now six and a half games ahead of the New York Giants, for New York and Cincinnati split even in their double-header played yesterday. The Reds defeated the visiting Giants by a 2-1 score in the first game of the afternoon, while in the second contest New York turned the tables on Cincinnati and won out by the easier score of 4-1. The two clubs also broke even in the series, each winning two and losing two games.

Playing at home, the Pittsburgh Pirates took their third straight win over the visiting Wilbur Robinson Dodgers of Brooklyn, yesterday's score being: Pittsburgh 5, Brooklyn 4. Brooklyn was unable to win a game during the series from Pittsburgh. The Pirates have still further reduced New York's lead over them, being now only .087 percent behind the Giants. While Philadelphia holds on to fourth place well enough, Pittsburgh is four games ahead of the Phillies. The other clubs remain in the same relative positions—Cincinnati, Boston, St. Louis and Brooklyn.

In St. Louis the Cardinals won a close game from the visiting Braves by a 3-2 score. Each team won two and lost two of the four games played in the series which closed yesterday.

New Series Opens Today
The National League clubs begin today the new series, which will close with the games of next Sunday afternoon, when double-headers will be played, as follows: Boston at Cincinnati, Brooklyn at Chicago, New York at St. Louis, and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh, on Sunday game to be played in Pittsburgh, however. This will close the record of visits of the Eastern teams in the West.

He is a table showing the number of games won and lost by each National League club from and including July 9 until and including yesterday, the first figure given being of the games won and the next of those lost:
Cincinnati 8-2, St. Louis 7-4, Pittsburgh 6-3, Chicago 7-5, New York 6-5, Boston 4-7, Philadelphia 4-7, and Brooklyn 6-8.

MEMPHIS, Tennessee, July 8.—Announcement was made Wednesday of the sale of Pitcher Eern Barger, manager of the Memphis Southern Association club, to the Chicago Nationals, to report when the southern season closes Friday.

William F. Baker, president of the Philadelphia National League club, has bought a bush league team entitled "The Cardinals, Connecticut." Last winter he sold a big league team entitled "Cincinnati" and a "Killer."

That clubs in the major leagues are not feeling the effects of the war, to any extent, as some of them claim, is a matter of mere camouflage, and nothing else.

That much is proved by the recent appeal of Branch Rickey, president of the St. Louis Nationals, to stockholders of the Cardinals.

In letters sent to them Rickey explains that a note for $49,000 is due Mrs. Helen Britton, former owner of the club, on July 1. Funds for current liabilities of $20,000 must be raised some time this week, the letter states.

The St. Louis club was purchased from Mrs. Britton by a syndicate for $200,000, of which $105,000 is yet to be paid.

This shows that St. Louis hasn't been making any money this year, but has been dropping it, instead. Of course, the fact that the team is in the second division has a lot to do with the situation.

The Boston Red Sox keep winning and increasing their lead in the American League, they being now four and a half games ahead of the Cleveland Indians, who are in second place, followed by New York, which is a full game back of Cleveland. Washington has made a great spurt recently and now threatens to take the lead over the Yankees, being but one full game behind New York. Detroit is now out of the collar, Philadelphia occupying the pit at present.

Boston won both games of its double-header yesterday at home with the visiting St. Louis Browns. The Browns were shut out in both games, the first score being 7-0 and the second 4-0. This gives Boston all three games played this series with St. Louis. The series closes today.

Senators Win Close Game
The only other American League game played yesterday was staged in Washington, where Clark C. Griffith's Senators defeated the visiting Cleveland Indians by a close score of 5-4. Washington has won both games of the series. Detroit has also won both its games played with New York, while Philadelphia has taken the only game played with Chicago. All eight clubs close their present series today.

Angels Win Initial Game of Coast League Championship

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—(Associated Press).—In the first game of the championship series between the Los Angeles and the Vernon clubs of the Pacific Coast League, played yesterday, Los Angeles won out by the score of seven to five runs.

The Pacific Coast League, which had played half of its schedule and was to close its regular year on October 27, closed last Sunday, owing to the requirements of the "fight or work" order promulgated by Provost Marshal General Crowder some time ago.

Vernon was leading the league, with Los Angeles second, and the league magnates decided that the two teams should play a series of nine games to determine the champion. The first team winning five games will become the 1918 champion of the Pacific Coast League.

DE PALMA WINS OHIO AUTO RACE FROM MILTON

SPEEDWAY, Cincinnati, July 4.—Ralph de Palma, driving a Packard racer at the tremendous speed of 105 miles an hour, captured the 100-mile handicap, the feature of the Liberty Day races here today. He made the time 57:09. The record is 51:26, made by Louis Chevrolet at Sheepshead Bay last September.

Tom Milton, driving a Duesenberg, cut finished second and Ralph Mulford in a Frontenac finished third. Milton raced with a 40-second handicap. Mulford's handicap was 15 seconds.

The race, a stirring one, was run in the presence of 25,000 people. At the end of the first fifty miles De Palma held first place, Vail second and Mulford third, with the time standing 33:04 4/5.

At the end of the fourteenth lap Rega went out with a broken piston and Durney was counted out with a broken rod. Hoyer went out with a broken rod at the twentieth.
